I'm writing in regards to the article you had in the news about domestic violence. I think it would be unwise as the offender has already served thier time for thier punishment. I'm totally opposed to it. If you find it necessary to include their past offenes then it should be done for sex offenders, killers, rapeists, etc, etc. What about the victim who may also be an offender? Let's convict them also as they may not be as innocent as they make out to be. I have seen situations like that numerous times.

I think there are more important things in this world to focus on.

Sincerely
